

Red is...

...lava in volcanoes,
...the glowing flame in the winter fire,
...strawberries and raspberries you pick in the orchard.

...the apple you bite into at lunch,
...the ruby you mine,
...blood you bleed when you get hurt.

...the lobster you see at the beach,
the rose you give to your girl or boy friend,
...the color you color with, and,
...ketchup you put on your hotdog.

Red is so many things I can't name them all.
I don't know what I would do without red...
do you?
