

Punishment

Deep in the city of shadows where no light dares to crawl where happiness has never been heard of where fear has defeated hope

That terrible place is where I stand on the cold forgotten pavement I am to live and die forgotten To live and die remembered by no one

For no one dares to come in here because they could never escape the sharp screeching claws of sadness that make them stay inside

So here's a lesson everyone should know about how to escape all this it can easily be avoided if you just clean your room.
