

Dogsledding

Outside

Branches bend down from the snow
Streets covered in white.
Excited huskies howl in my backyard
Ready to run.

I harness the dogs
And attach the gang line
To the sled while the dogs jump in the air,
Excited huskies howl in the street
Ready to run.

And we're off at a fast pace
Trying to hold on to the sled
While the dogs keep pulling harder and harder
With each stride.
Excited huskies happy to run.

Sparkly snow on the streets
Flakes falling on my cheeks
Snow flies in the air behind the sled
As we twist and turn through the winding trails.
Excited huskies happy to run.

At the end of the run
We sprint for home.
Panting dogs cool off in the outside breeze
Then come inside to snuggle.
Tired huskies sleep along my side.
